THE GATEWAY is published by the Gateway Student Journalism Society (GSJS), a student-run, autonomous, apolitical not-for-profit organization, operated in accordance with the Societies Act of Alberta.

THE GATEWAY is proud to be a founding member of the Canadian University Press.

complaints

Comments, concerns, or complaints about the Gateway's content or operations should be first sent to the Editor-in-Chief at the address above. If the Editor-in-Chief is unable to resolve a complaint, it may be taken to the Gateway Student Journalism Society's Board of Directors; beyond that, appeal is to the non-partisan Society OmbudsBoard. The chairs of the Board of Directors and the OmbudsBoard can be reached at the address above.

colophon

The Gateway is created using Macintosh computers, HP Scanjet flatbed scanners, and a Nikon Super Cool Scan optical film scanner. Adobe InDesign is used for layout. Adobe Illustrator is used for vector images, while Adobe Photoshop is used for raster images. Adobe Acrobat is used to create PDF files which are burned directly to plates to be mounted on the printing press. Text is set in a variety of sizes, styles, and weights of FENICE, Joanna, Kepler and Whitney. The Manitoban is the Gateway's sister paper, and we love her dearly, though "not in that way." The Gateway's games of choice are Pain and Label Maker Adventures.

THE GAMBLER SU Execs give their thoughts on the situation Tuesday night.

Samuel's actions betrayed students' trust, says Janz

"I'm appalled and disappointed that the Vice-President refuses to see that the use of the marketing department and SU resources for his own admitted personal gain as pre-campaigning materials was wrong," Janz said following the Council meeting.

"This is an issue of 'can the Students' Council and the students trust their Executive to sit in office and not abuse the privileges that they have access to?' And the answer from the Vice-President (Academic) was, 'If you want me not to, you have to censure me.'

"It's a very sad day in student politics when we need to have a censure tagged on with a cease-and-desist letter to try and get someone to do something that may not jeopardize the institution's integrity," Janz added.

For his part, Samuel said that the censure was not the right decision and that he wasn't completely in the wrong over his actions.

"Obviously, Students' Council felt very strongly about what I did—I still feel strongly about what I did—and I still feel that talking to students, actually engaging students in the electoral process and how we approach our Students' Union, is the more important principle."

The VPA has said that he will very likely be using the slogan of Genuine, Bold, Smart for his campaign. While the actions of the VPA may be bold, to me they seem to fall outside of the realm of genuine or smart.

COUNCIL FORUM

by Kirsten Goruk

Students' Council usually meets every second Tuesday in the Council Chambers in University Hall at 6pm. Council meetings are open to all students; however, there is still no food provided. The only sustenance comes from consuming high-calorie debate and parliamentary procedure. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, 12 February.

QUESTION PERIOD

President Michael Janz responded to a question regarding the recent issue surrounding Lister Hall and the newly announced changes that Resident Services plans to implement. Janz admitted to being extremely appalled by the news. He said that the current system of peer appointment engages students and creates a sense of community in the residence.

In light of the upcoming SU elections, Janz also answered a question about his thoughts on the usefulness of SU Executive members attending outreach sessions. He answered that he believes the sessions to be a great resource and that advisement for potential candidates is welcome, as long as it doesn't intend to change opinions or platforms. Janz went on to state that he feels that the Wall of Gold and the SU website have become valuable sources of information regarding job positions.

Janz was also asked about the recent academic portfolio help session that was held and if more could be scheduled. He replied that the information from the session has been made available online and included in the SU newsletter and that an email will be sent out to students.

VP (External) Steven Dollansky was asked to detail the activities that will be taking place during the Provincial election. He replied that two forums are in the process of being planned—one for the Riverview area and one for Strathcona—along with outreach to keep students informed and able to vote. He also explained that media outlets such as TV, radio, the Internet, and billboards would be used to draw attention to PSE issues.

As you may be aware, today is Chinese New Year, marking the start of the Year of the Rat.

Given that Alberta is a rat-free province, what other animal would you name the year after and why?

"Personally, I don't think that it's judged by a country, whether it has the animal or not. It's just a Chinese tradition, every year we have a different animal." [Hypothetically?] "Dragon, because I was born in the year of the dragon."

"I'd name it after a puma." [Why?] "Because it's a puma; the first thing that came to my head."

"I would name it a rabbit, because rabbits are cute."

"A cow because of Alberta beef."
